Lesson Close What is the answer to the essential question, and why does it matter to me in terms of: Educational? Social? Cultural? Financial? Health? Vocational? Spiritual?	Educational As a student, you might come across information that you may not be open to. However, it is important to keep an open mind about these things as it may make you a better person. What are some ways that you can make sure that you're tolerant when coming across new ideas in school? Spiritual Spiritual chanting is said to improve listening skills, heightened energy and more sensitivity towards others- all qualities that are important in being a good student (and person). They can be as simple as a single word or as complex as a mantra. What is a spiritual chant that you can use to improve yourself? Financial As you get older and enter the workforce, you will	Financial Sometimes you need to financially collaborate with others. If you were to start a business, you might have to find an investor who would be willing to give you money in exchange for some of your profits. Due to this, as you strike out into the business world, you will need to know how to be financially collaborative. What are some ways that you can be financially collaborative. Social Although you are in middle school,	Health There are multiple factors and influences on our overall well being- mental, emotional, physical and others. Regulating these factors requires a degree of self care. Why do you think it is important to practice self care? What do you think happens if you don't take care of yourself? Cultural Cultural enterprise involves the performance of certain activity prevalent in artistic and cultural content, usually relating to	Financial Financial generosity helps people from all walks of life. Why do you think it is important to be financially generous? What are some ways you can be financially generous? Vocational Many celebrities and athletes go into their fields after years of refining entry level skills into world class skills (such as learning how to kick a ball versus how to kick a ball that is hard to block). Think about what you	Social Humans are social creatures. Part of being a social creature is being understanding of people who are different from you. What does it mean to be understanding of others? Spiritual A vice is a moral failing or a bad habit- and everyone has one. For some people, a vice might be as simple as eating too many sweets, but for others, vices might be more serious and can lead to negative effects on your health. Think	Educational Many Informative texts have come about by people simply wanting to know more about the world around them. Just as authors of informative texts have been inspired to further their own knowledge of atomic structure, you too should find inspiration from the world around you and you should use this inspiration to figure out how to improve the world around you. Educational In today's world there are many different types of degrees you can obtain and these types of degrees can influence your career plans. If you want to become a doctor, you'll need to need to create a budget and learn how to stick with it. What are some ways you can learn how to stick to your budget?	you are responsible for setting boundaries with other people. What are some boundaries you can set with others? Vocational In life, you will encounter moments where you don't feel motivated. However, in the workforce a lack of motivation can have major consequences, including losing your job! What are some ways you can remain driven at work?	the culture of a city, state, or nationality. It is often a way for people of one culture to share information about their culture with others in an informational or educational setting. What are some small ways you can create cultural enterprises? Spiritual Most people rely on a variety of methods to guide them through life, including their spirituality. Before you can set out on this journey you need to set spiritual aspirations. What do you think are some spiritual aspirations you can set?	want to do with your life - what do you think are the entry level positions you need to take in your field before you can rise to your dream job? Educational The purpose of school is to help you develop the skills you need for the workplace, including establishing core competency. What are some things you can do to increase your competency in school?	about your life, what are your vices? Once you know what your vices are, what steps can you take to make sure they don't get out of control? Vocational Just as you have to be in class with people you may not necessarily like, when you enter the workforce you might have coworkers that you don't like. However, depending on your job, cooperating with your coworkers can mean completing a project or getting fired. Knowing that the stakes are higher in the workplace and you may have to work with people you don't like, how can you cooperate with people you don't like?	think about going to University and then going to medical school and getting a MD. If you want to become a lawyer, you'll need an undergrad degree and then you will need a lot of you will need a JD from a law school. Thankfully, not all jobs require advanced degrees-some jobs only require certificates or Associate's Degrees. As you think about your career aspirations, you'll need to start thinking about the types of degrees you will need to obtain. Educational As you go through life, you will need to demonstrate competence in your activities. Whether it's a Chemistry test or arguing a case before the Supreme Court, you will need to be able to demonstrate competency in your field. What does it mean to be competent?
