What is the answer to the essential question, and why does it matter to me in terms of: Educational? In school, you have a set curriculum that is determined by government officials. However, this doesn't mean you can only learn about certain topics, especially owing to all of the educational apps out there. How can you use your educational independence to supplement your education? Social? Everyone who holds an important or powerful position starts out in an entry level position in their field so they can gain experience. Think about what your career goals are? What do you think are the entry level positions you need to hold in your field? If you are unsure, how can you find out what the entry level positions are? Cultural? Financial? Part of developing financial knowledge is understanding your financial habits. Once you understand your spending habits, it can be easier for you to set a budget and manage your money. However, monitoring your spending habits can be a time consuming ordeal. What are some ways you can monitor your spending habits? Health? Vocational? Spiritual?	What is the answer to the essential question, and why does it matter to me in terms of: Educational In school, you have a set curriculum that is determined by government officials. How can you use your educational independence to supplement your education? Vocational Everyone who holds an important or powerful position starts out in an entry level position in their field so they can gain experience. Think about what your career goals are? What do you think are the entry level positions you need to hold in your field? If you are unsure, how can you find out what the entry level positions are? Financial Part of developing financial knowledge is understanding your financial habits. Once you understand your spending habits, it can be easier for you to set a budget and manage your money. However, monitoring your spending habits can be a time consuming ordeal. What are some ways you can monitor your spending habits?	What is the answer to the essential question, and why does it matter to me in terms of: Cultural You can form connections with someone based on just about anything. One of the easier ways to form a connection with somebody is based on a cultural background. Forming a connection with someone from the same cultural background is easy, but how can you form a connection with someone from a different cultural background? Spiritual Religions that are part of a larger faith, such as the various branches of Christianity or Islam, may pray in a similar manner. How can you learn about how people of various faiths pray? Once you learn about how other faiths	What is the answer to the essential question, and why does it matter to me in terms of: Health More than anything else, your health is the one thing in your life that you can truly control. Consequently, you have the power to keep your health in balance. It is important to live a healthy life, but focusing too much on the steps to create a healthy life can actually cause it to backfire on you! Keeping this in mind, what can you do to keep your health in balance? Vocational Some people know from a very young age what vocation they wish to pursue. However, some people might struggle to pick a vocation. If you are struggling to pick a vocation, what are some exercises you can do to help you pick a career?	What is the answer to the essential question, and why does it matter to me in terms of: Spiritual In the 21st century, people find fulfillment in their lives through all sorts of areas-having lots of friends, through a job or even their spirituality. What do you think it means to find spiritual fulfillment? Is it any different than finding educational fulfillment? Financial If you have a lot of stuff laying around the house, you can turn that stuff into money by selling it through ebay or one of the other second hand sales websites or stores. However before you do that, you need to determine how much to charge for each item. If you set the price too high, nobody will buy it. But if you set the price	What is the answer to the essential question, and why does it matter to me in terms of: Social In the modern era, people are still connected by various markers- religion, language, history, etc. However, people can find connections through all sorts of means. You and someone from a different culture might share the same hobbies or enjoy the same sources of entertainment. What are some of the other uncommon ways people are connected? How can you find uncommon connections between you and someone from a different culture? Spiritual Many people incorporate prayer in their daily lives. However, some people may not feel comfortable praying in public and instead may use chants or mottos to get themselves through the day instead. What are some simple chances that you can incorporate your life to help you get through the day? Social In the 21st Century, your identity is shaped by a wide variety of factors, including the people we surround ourselves with. For example, if you play a sport then many, if not all, of the people you socialize with also play a sport. However, sometimes you might find that you are unhappy about the social circle or social identity that you have formed. In situations like this we can take steps to form a new social identity. What are some small and simple ways that you can change your new social identity?

		pray, how can you use that information to build inner-spiritual connections? Vocational Today, while people studying Greek and Latin are more often than not working very safe jobs, they still have to face responsibility for their actions. When you reach the workforce, you might make mistakes and face responsibility for your actions. However, It is not always easy to take responsibility for your actions at work- afterall, nobody likes being told about their mistakes. Why do you think it is important to take responsibility for your work? Is it possible to take responsibility for your work while still standing up for yourself? How do you think not taking responsibility for your work can hurt you?	Educational For some people, competency at school is easy and requires little effort. However, some people might struggle to demonstrate competency at school. If you feel that you struggle to demonstrate competency at school, don't worry! Competence at school doesn't come overnight for everybody, even people whose success appears effortless is really a series of small steps such as getting help from a teacher or even studying for a few extra minutes before school. IF you feel that you struggle to demonstrate your competence at school, what are some small steps you can take to improve your competence?	too low you might be getting ripped off. How can you find the material value of items so you can get a good price for them? Cultural With the wide variety of cultures found in the world today, there might be one or two that have values that might make you uneasy. They might treat certain people as second class citizens or they might say that certain behaviors, that you find unacceptable, to be acceptable. What should you do when you encounter people whose values make you uncomfortable? What should you do if you work with or for them? What if you are related to them?
