WHY IS BRANDING IMPORTANT FOR MARKETING?

Marketing is like asking someone on a date and branding is the reason why they say yes!

Branding is important because not only is it what makes a memorable impression on consumers but it allows your customers and clients to know what to expect from your company. It is a way of distinguishing yourself from the competitors and clarifying what it is you offer that makes you the better choice.

When you think about your brand, you really want to think about your entire customer experience...everything from your logo, your website, your social media experiences, the way you answer the phone, to the way your customers experience your staff.

In short, your brand is the way your customer perceives you.

EARLY ADOPTER REPORT

Early adopters are known to be the first who try, learn, and use new products and technology that a company releases before it is used on the day to day normality by the main population. Early adaptors are curious and excited for the experience of learning and using something new. By trying out new technologies and products before others, they are the ones who are able to tell the main population about the product therefore making them influencers amongst their group. It is important to identify who is our early adopter since they will be the ones to try and use it first.

EARLY ADOPTER REPORT

The Myers Briggs personality test points down to 4 basic human senses that points down to 16 possible personality types. These 4 possible senses determine if a person is either introverted or extraverted, follow their intuition or senses, are feelers or thinkers, and are perceivers or judges. This brief analysis gives us an insight on how the person may behave and how they may think in situations. By using this test, I'm able to identify and narrow the results into certain personality types depending on what kind of adopter we're aiming at.
